Cementitious Brake Control

Mid-term Conference

June 24th, 2016 - from 9:00 to 13:00

Conference Room Emilio Bombassei

Brembo S.p.a. - Viale Europa 2, Stezzano - Italy

You are invited to participate to the COBRA Project Mid-term Conference.

COBRA Project – started in July 2014 – aims to introduce an innovative brake pads production technology by 2018.

Through the replacement of phenolic resins with completely novel cementitious materials in the brake pad manufacturing, COBRA will guarantee significant environmental benefits in brake pad production compared to the traditional technologies. During the conference preliminary results will be presented to the main project stakeholders in order to maximise the exploitation of COBRA at European level.

This project – LIFE13 ENV/IT/000492 – LIFE+ COBRA - receives the contribution of the LIFE financial instrument of the European Commission.
